Sponsorship Opportunities

The Southern Colorado Film Festival is an annual event that enriches the community of the San Luis Valley by providing a venue for showcasing artistic and independent film production. By bringing the voice of filmmakers from all around the world to the San Luis Valley, the festival inspires and enlightens the region's citizens, helping to raise awareness of global matters and promoting a sense of community and spirit. In its third year, SoCo Film Festival is geared to becoming a tourist attraction that will bring film enthusiasts, filmmakers and their families to the region.

By sponsoring the 2016 Southern Colorado Film Festival, you'll help us increase the festival's positive impact. In turn, you'll also get the chance to reach out to SoCo Film Festival audience and help connect them with your business. In exchange for your support, we will provide you with the following opportunities:

- $50 – $499: Logo displayed on website and on screen before showings
- $500 – $999: Logo printed in program, displayed on website and on screen before film showings
- $1000 – $4999: all of the above plus named as "film supporter" on the program block of your choice
- $5000 – higher: all of the above plus named as "film sponsor" on the program block of your choice
